Leading Manufacturer of Glass Bending & Tempering Equipment

“I have had the pleasure of working with the Congruent Team for the better part of 8 years now. They have a very deep understanding of Dynamics – SL and .NET technologies. The coding they provide is both professional and well documented. The team goes to great lengths to fully understand our requirements asking questions and offering suggestions that in the end provide a better solution. If a mistake is made or there is a misunderstanding they work diligently to correct the issue as quickly as possible. They will adjust their hours to suit our support needs regardless of the time or duration needed. All in all I’m very satisfied with their work and would highly recommend them”
